

CPDL List of High School Mixed Literature

In lieu of budget cuts across the state, I put together this list of pieces on www.cpd.org (Choral Public Domain Library) that are free to print and copy. Included are all different levels of mixed voicing. I do not claim this to be a list worthy of doctoral dissertation. I have compiled it list using a few different books, word of mouth, and personal teaching experience. I concur there are many other wonderful pieces on cpdl that I have not included, but this is perhaps a jumping off point to the standards. I also understand there are several mistakes on many editions posted on cpdl. Also, I have performed some of these pieces, but many I have not. You may want to do some research on the piece to find out if the edition you have found is worthy of performance.

If you are curious, two of the main resources I used to compile the list are:

1. An Annotated Inventory of Distinctive Choral Literature for Performance at the High School Level. Compiled by Margaret B. Hawkins, Chairperson of HS Standards and Repertoire Committee ACDA (American Choral Directors Association, 1976).
2. Teaching Music through Performance in Choir Vol. 1. Compiled and Edited by Heather J. Buchanan and Matthew W. Mehaffey (GIA, 2005).
